

I don't know what really i want to say. But let me take a deep breath and say it whatever it comes from my heart.

We met like strangers , we had spent less time together, if i collect that time it would be even less than few hours. I don't know these few hours are enough for someone to fall in love. But i fall for you. From the first day we met , i had a soft corner for you in my heart (not because of your looks but somehow because of your behaviour). Being Honest , when we started chatting on fb , i got realised that you've no intrest in me. I always wanted that i keep loving you from backstage of my heart without telling you. I was scared to lose our friendship and never wanted to let you know that i love you.

Really, IDK why and when i started loving you so much. Each time u told me that you'll not be there in next semster ,i was afraid to lose you even knowing that you ain't mine. IDK when i got too much emotionally attached to you. Everyday, i used to attend those shit lectures just because you used to be there in the class and i could get only a glimpse of you. I always wanted you not to go far away from my gaze. I was upset when i didn't see you in class. Whenever passing by, i had only one thought that somehow you'll stop me. Such unusual things happened with me for first time.

Each day, i was waiting for your text msg and a simple text from you gave me a smile. I think about this everyday that may our talks never end. I had woven many dreams , but almost each dream since we met , was either about you or about us. I was keeping safe every single phrase said by you and every picture of you so that if i couldn't see you someday then atleast i would have your pictures for your glimpse. I was overthinking about us. My mind was full of your thoughts (even while studying, i keep thinking about you only.) Sometimes, I tried to move on from these thoughts so that i can be healed but just after few min. ,another thought strikes and i fall for you again and it all happens over and again with me.

I'm still immature to ask whether it's attraction or love? Whatever it may be, i've known that even after loving you too much, i'm not worth of your love. i didn't have words to say just before typing this but right now i have endless things to say & you can't understand everything. The last thing is "Teri bahut jyaada yaad aayegi". Let me wrap up all my emotions and feelings. Hope you'll have a great journey ahead in life with whoever you want. Atlast , I can only wish you "Good Luck & Bye !"
