

.....

I don't know what really i want to say. But let me take a deep breath and say it whatever comes from my heart.

We met like strangers , we spent less time together, if i collect that time it would be even less than few hours. I don't know if these few hours are enough for someone to fall in love. But i fall for you in this period. From the first day we met , i had a soft corner for you in my heart (not because of your looks but somehow because of your behaviour). Being Honest , when we started chatting on fb , i got realised that you've no intrest in me. I always wanted that i keep loving you from backstage of my heart without telling you. I was scared to lose our friendship and never wanted to let you know that if i love you.

Really, I don't know why and when i started loving you so much. Even i don't know when i got too much emotionally attached to you. Everyday, i used to attend those shit lectures just because you used to be there in the class and i could get only a glimpse of you. I still remember the things happened in the last lecture, we had only an eyecontact , that day niether you talked to me nor i tried . I later got to know that it was your last lecture and i felt ashamed a little bit. I always thought that we have enough time and was waiting for miracles to happen that you'll join next semester too. Each time you told me that you'll not be there in next semester , i was afraid to lose you even knowing that you can never be mine. I always wanted you not to go far away from my gaze. I was upset when i didn't see you in class. Whenever passing by, i had only one thought that somehow you'll stop me and we'll have any further conversation. I'm kind of person who listen to others more than saying things to them so don't consider it as my attitude problem.

Each day, i was waiting for your text msg and a simple text from you brought a smile on my face. I think about this everyday that may our talks never end. I had woven many dreams , but almost each dream since we met , was either about you or about us. I was keeping safe every single phrase said by you and every picture of you so that if i couldn't see you someday then atleast i would have your pictures for your glimpse. I was over thinking about us. Somehow , I was getting mad about you and the worst thing was that i didn't know - how to get over of it as such unusual things were happening with me for the first time.

I still don't know whether i should move on or not ? even if i'll try then i can't.

My mind remains full of thoughts all about you (even while studying, i keep thinking about you only). Sometimes, I tried to move on from these thoughts so that i can be healed but just after few min. , your another thought strikes and i fall for you again and it all happens over and again with me. But you need not to worry about all these things. There are still few close friends and relatives to take care of me. I know that i'm really soft and sensitive by heart. Whenever i was emotional , i posted a status about you (may be it was kind of kiddish stuff for you). I know that i bothered you each time when i was emotional. I feel sorry for such things (as you tolerated me alot). But i'm gonna make you a promise here , i'll not bother you again .. Happy Now? No more texts , No more whatsapp statuses . That doesn't mean i'll not be emotional anymore but whenever i'll be , i'll keep posting those status to instagram as private feeds or somewhere else.

I'm still immature to ask whether it was attraction or love? Whatever it may be, i've known that even after loving you too much, i'm not worthy of your love. May be god forgot to write down your name in my destiny or perhaps there is fault in our stars. But whatever it may be , it's okay. I didn't have words to say just before typing this but right now i have endless things to say & you can't understand everything. The last thing what i've to say is "Teri bahut jyaada yaad aayegi". I still don't know why am i telling you all these things to you , afterall you don't care and will never care so let me wrap up all my emotions and leave silently. Hope you'll have a great journey ahead in life with whomever you want. At-last , I can only wish you "Good Luck & Bye !"
